FAQs

Still have questions? We have the answers.

Are home security systems worth the money?

We might be biased, but absolutely. You really can't put a price tag on the convenience and peace of mind that come with knowing your home and everything in it are safe and secure.
That means:

- Deterring crime, keeping intruders out, and protecting what's inside.
- Protecting against fire and carbon monoxide—even when you're away.
- Knowing someone's always there to respond to an alarm with 24/7 monitoring.
- Potentially saving on homeowner's insurance and monthly utility spend.

At Vivint we're here to help you personalize a home security system that fits your home, needs, lifestyle, and budget. In other words, we'll help you create a system that works for you and more than justifies the investment.

Everyone deserves to feel safe and secure at home, which is why at Vivint we work with you to make your home security system affordable. We have payment plans to fit your budget. And with 0% product financing and low monthly service payments that ensure 24/7 monitoring and customer support, protecting your home is easier and more affordable than ever.

Do home alarm systems really work?

Yes. We've built an entire company around that fact. And we protect more than 2 million families throughout the United States because home alarm systems and security do, in fact, turn your home into a safer haven. They work, and Vivint is leading the industry.

Security alarm systems work, but what happens if you're not home to hear the alarm? That's where our award-winning, 24/7 monitoring and support team plays a crucial role. Our home specialists are always available to respond to an alarm and send first responders if you can't be reached. That means powerful peace of mind for you, knowing that your home is protected no matter where you are.

How much does a security system cost?

A smart home security system really is more affordable than you might think.

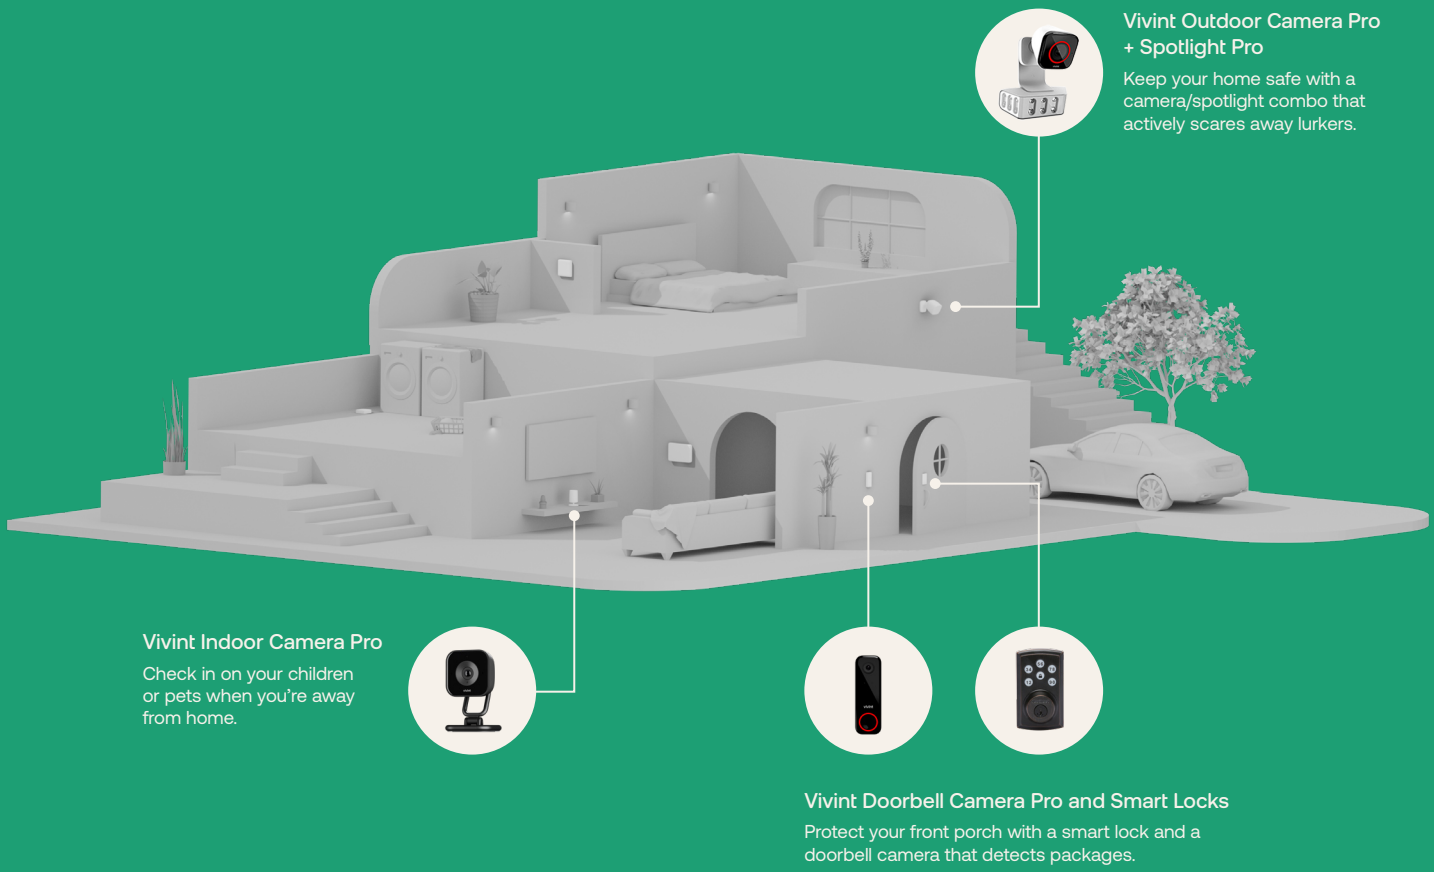

When you purchase a Vivint system you're paying for 3 things:

1. Equipment
2. Professional installation
3. Monthly monitoring fees

That means the cost of a home security system varies depending on the level of protection and automation you want—the more devices you add, the greater your equipment costs will be.

Financing programs are available to assist with equipment costs. And Vivint routinely offers promotional discounts wherein the cost of installation is waived. You'll pay monthly monitoring and support fees as long as you have your system. Give us a call at 206.317.8114 for specific pricing.
